PRESENTED BY

CUSTOM BUSINESS

PLANNING AND SOLUTIONS

Change is inevitable. Our entire lives are change, from aging to the jobs we hold, to where we live. In the current economic climate, changes have come, and will continue to come to businesses of all sizes as they struggle to comprehend and compete in the most challenging economic climate since the Great Depression.

To survive and prosper, those with skills in managing change will have an advantage. 'Dealing with Change' will help you to develop these skills by:

- Understanding the challenge of change and common responses to it
- Examine and learn from past change in your own life
- Understanding why change occurs
- Defusing resistance to change
- Learning how to take positive action to make change successful

The course will be taught by Peter Mehit, a certified Zenger-Miller trainer and co-owner of Custom Business Planning and Solutions, a company that helps businesses manage change through better work flow and organization.
