Free Business Survival Workshop Offered On Wednesday, October 28

SAN JACINTO, CALIFORNIA (October 5, 2009) The City of San Jacinto and the Riverside County Workforce Development Center of Riverside County are sponsoring a business workshop called "Business SOS – How to Successfully Survive" on Wednesday, October 28 from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the San Jacinto Community Center located at 625 S. Pico Avenue in San Jacinto, California.

"We need to do everything possible to help our companies stay in business and retain their employees," said Sharon Paisley, San Jacinto Economic Development Manager. "Rather than giving up and closing their doors, we want business owners to know that there are many resources available including job training incentives, business counseling, financing, streamlining production, as well as conservation and rebate programs." A variety of presentations will be provided by the Workforce Development Center, Mt. San Jacinto College, San Jacinto Unified School District, Inland Empire Small Business Development Center, SCORE, Southern California Reinvestment CDFI, Inland Empire Women's Business Center, California Manufacturing Technology Consulting, Eastern Municipal Water District, The Gas Company and Southern California Edison.

In addition, attendees will have an opportunity to win door prizes, including a free confidential business analysis that will be conducted by the Small Business Development Center. It will examine the company along the lines of the team, production, marketing, financial performance and leadership, and will provide management with a concise view of how it is doing in those areas.

Due to limited space, reservations are required. To make a reservation, contact Jan Catron at 951.537.6354 or jcatron@sanjacintoca.us.
